

Home Profile AccountCareersBenefits + PerksLife at FacebookUniversityPuzzles

Product Management

From News Feed to Mobile Applications and everything in between, we drive the conceptual and technical development of product initiatives from beginning to end. We collaborate with multiple teams throughout the company to deliver world-class products. Join our team if you want to make a deep impact on Facebook's newest products and help guide their evolution.

Open Positions

- Mobile Program Manager
Product Manager
- Product Manager - Mobile
- Product Manager, Search Relevance \(Ranking\)

Product Manager

Facebook is looking for talented Product Managers to coordinate the conceptual and technical development of new product initiatives. This position is full time and based in our main offices in Palo Alto, CA.

Apply for this positionShare

Responsibilities

- Write specifications, prioritize features, build consensus and coordinate product schedules with a team of world-class engineers
- Facilitate communication throughout the development process between a variety of internal teams including operations, PR, customer support, executive, and others
- Integrate usability studies, research and market analysis into product requirements to ensure products satisfy customer needs
- Understand Facebook's strategic and competitive position, and work to define and deliver the best products which maintain, shape, and improve that position
- Inform the roadmap with new, justifiable ideas to enhance existing functionality or introduce new features
- Maximize efficiency in a constantly changing and growing environment where the process is fluid and creative and unique solutions are desired

Requirements

- BA/BS in Computer Science or related technical field (MS or Ph.D. is a plus)
- Exceptional written and oral communication skills
- Exceptional organizational and analytical skills
- Exceptional technical abilities and ability to work with engineers
- Statistics background or strong skills in data analysis (familiarity with SQL is a plus)
- Demonstrated skills in gathering requirements, organizing resources, and schedule risk management
- Understanding of social applications and media products, or the ability to quickly learn
- Experience developing Internet products, technologies and platforms is strongly desired

Apply for this positionSharePermalink to this requisition

Benefits and Perks

We've got it good!

At our Palo Alto headquarters, we also offer free breakfast, lunch and dinner at our Cafe. Whether you're looking for healthy salads, or hearty world cuisine from Belize, India, etc., or just a couple slices of pizza, Chef Josef and his team of culinary geniuses in Palo Alto make it happen every day.

Life at Facebook

Innovation is paramount

No matter what part of Facebook you join, you'll be building something big and new. You won't simply be finding answers; you'll be framing questions that no one has ever asked before - and identifying unprecedented opportunities. We welcome pioneers. In fact, we insist on them.