Dear Nelly and Peter,

I am writing in reference to the application of Wided Ghardallou to serve as a student volunteer at ICSE 2012. I am supervising Wided's doctoral work remotely, in cooperation with Professor Khaled Bsaies from the University of Tunis.

I highly recommend Wided for a position as a student volunteer, on the basis of the following grounds:

1. Wided is a very talented young lady, and very promising researcher. She is very autonomous, very methodical, and works effectively with minimal supervision.
2. She speaks English fluently, and has represented the research team in past conferences, including ICTAC 2011 in Johannesburg, South Africa, September 2011.
3. The registration expenses and the living expenses in Zurich are very high, especially in Tunisian dinars (1 SFR= 1.6 TND), relative to the salary of a junior teaching assistant that she is in Tunisia.

I am confident that if you admit Wided as a student volunteer, you will find her a dependable, effective member of your team.

Thank you for soliciting my opinion on this matter, and best wishes of success at ICSE 2012.

Sincerely,

Ali Mili
