To Whom It May Concern

Mr Santosh Singh Rathore is pursuing his master thesis under my supervision in this institute. I have the pleasure of knowing him since last one year. Besides having excellent record in academics, he has been involved in organizing various events in and off the campus. He is sincere, motivated and hard working student who would give his hundred percent all the time. He is good at English, soft spoken and has willingness to help others when needed. I would like to recommend him as a Student Volunteer to serve at ICSE 2012 International Conference on Software Engineering (from 2-9 June 2012 at Zurich, Switzerland). ICSE is one of the good ACM/IEEE conferences and exposure to such a conference in his early stage of professional career can be tremendously motivating and rewarding for him where he will have the opportunity to meet and talk with leading academic, industrial researchers and practitioners in the area of software engineering.

If you have any questions regarding this recommendation, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Atul Gupta
