Letter of Recommendation for Mr. Daniel Strüber

I confirm that Daniel Strüber is employed as Research Assistant at the Philipps-Universität Marburg, Germany. He has started his PhD project on distributed model-driven software development in autumn 2011.

Daniel Strüber is very open-minded and learns fast. During his work as Student Assistant, he helped in organizing programming labs for undergraduate students and has shown that he is flexible, diligent and absolutely reliable. As Research Assistant, he is now engaged in holding the labs on model-driven software development for graduate students. He is well organized, can work under pressure and is a good team worker. In student labs as well as in our working group he is always willing to help. In addition, he has excellent written and spoken English communication skills.

It is for these reasons that I highly recommend Daniel Strüber as student volunteer for ICSE 2012 without reservation. If you have any questions regarding this recommendation, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards,

(Prof. Dr. Gabriele Taentzer)
